

Applying for remote access after creating a personal account:

- 1) If you recently created an account, make sure you're not login on the website before applying for a remote access.

- 2) Click the Login button then Click Apply now under Remote Access.

- 3) Type the Institutional email you recently register.

The screenshot shows the ClinicalKey website interface. At the top left is the Elsevier logo and 'ClinicalKey' text. Navigation links for 'Search', 'Browse', and 'Tools' are in the top center. On the top right, there are links for 'English', 'CME/MOC', 'Login', and 'Register'. Below the navigation bar, there is a search bar with the text 'All Types' and a search icon. The main content area is titled 'Apply for remote access' and contains the following text: 'If your institution has Remote Access enabled, this feature will allow you to access ClinicalKey even when you are not on your institution's network. To begin, please input your institutional email address below. Remote Access is not compatible with a Yahoo, Gmail, or other personal email account. If you do not have an email address associated with your institution, please contact your institution's administrator to obtain remote access.' Below this text is a form with an 'Email address' input field and a 'Continue >' button. At the bottom of the page, there is an 'ELSEVIER' logo, a list of links (Contact Us, Resource Center, Terms & Conditions, Privacy Policy, Registered User Agreement, Help), copyright information (Copyright © 2020 Elsevier, Inc. All rights reserved.), a link to the Cookies page, and the RELX Group logo. A footer banner at the bottom of the page reads: 'Elsevier's new COVID-19 CLINICAL TOOLKIT provides open access to clinical resources focused on the latest evidence-based practices.'

- 4) Go to your e-mail and activate remote access. This should allow you now to access the full site.

Dear Customer,
